Remember

- Stop your car after an accident, check if anyone's injured and help where you can. (It's the law.)
- Inspect any damage and, if you can, take photos.
- Give your details to anyone who needs it.
- Taking meds/drinking alcohol after an accident is a big no-no, unless a medical professional tells you to.
- Only use King Price-authorized towing operators. Remember, you'll be responsible for the cost of the towing/storage if you don't use our assist line and approved towing operator, when you're medically able to.
- Tell us no later than 30 days after an incident. To maintain cover, we need to know about any incident you're involved in. This includes incidents that you don't want to claim for right away, but that may result in a claim in the future.
- Tell the police within 24 hours. Even if there's no damage to your car, there could be damage to the third party's property.
- Get a copy of the police report, case number, your statement and details of the police station and assisting officer.
- Leave it to the king. Never admit guilt or offer a settlement to any other party after an accident. We won't be responsible for any admission or offer you make.
- Get written approval from the king before arranging for repairs/replacements.
